This year's theme Accelerating Towards Elimination will address a number of critical areas such as the elimination of tuberculosis (TB), HIV and the stigma that surrounds both diseases, scaling up elimination of tobacco use and elimination of local and global threats to our collective lung health. The conference will also discuss elimination of the current roadblocks to innovation and accelerating sustainable health solutions for men, women and children around the world.

This year's conference will be held in Guadalajara, Mexico, a vibrant city, rich in history and cultural treasures. With an extensive network of hospitals and universities, biotech companies and community programmes, Guadalajara is a leader in medical, social and political aspects of lung health.

The conference provides an excellent opportunity to connect exhibitors and sponsors with delegates leading the work in TB and lung health around the world. By promoting your company or organisation at the Union World Conference, you will:

About The Union and The Union World Conference on Lung Health

The Union was founded in Paris in 1920 as a federation of 31 national lung associations that joined together to fight TB.

The Union has been at the centre of global efforts to prevent, treat and control TB since its founding and has now grown to be a federation of thousands of members active in nearly 150 countries.

The annual international conference on TB and lung health issues has been an integral part of The Union's work since shortly after its founding. Today, The Union World Conference on Lung Health attracts thousands of delegates who come to learn about the latest research, programmatic and policy developments; share their successes and challenges; and re-connect with others dedicated to our common cause: health solutions for the poor.

The Union is excited to be hosting the 48th Union World Conference on Lung Health in Guadalajara, Mexico. The 2017 conference will welcome over 3,000 lung health professionals, policy-makers, advocates and community representatives to participate in the four-day programme, including over 150 sessions from presenters from around the world. The conference will also host a space for community involvement and grassroots advocacy, an array of pre-conference events and side-meetings, a meeting of the Global TB Caucus of Parliamentarians from around the world, and a number of other conference activities and side-meetings hosted by various groups and organisations.

Exhibition spaces

The Union offers a unique opportunity for exhibitors to showcase their products and services to more than 3,000 delegates coming from all over the world, interested in all areas of lung health.

The Union's conference exhibition area also provides excellent opportunities for networking with delegates and other exhibitors. A variety of companies, development agencies, non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and other health organisations exhibit at the conference.

This year, exhibition spaces will be located next to the Plenary Hall, near the scientific poster area. The hall will sell hot and cold refreshments, coffee and snacks and have rest areas for delegates. Thanks to their placement near The Union Village, poster displays, and the Plenary Hall, exhibitors will benefit from their placement at the centre of the conference activities, bringing a steady flow of delegates to their stands.

A list of exhibitors will be published on the website and in the final programme, which is distributed to all delegates, thus increasing exhibitors' exposure.

Discounted booths are offered to Union organisational members and NGOs.

Additional exhibitors badges may be purchased for 50 euros.

Booths are allocated on a first-come first-served basis and all requests for exhibition spaces must be received by 17 August. Book early to secure your space.
